ZISHI & ICE ANNOUNCE THREE YEAR EDUCATION PARTNERSHIP

ZISHI, the preferred training and education partner providing learning and development solutions for financial services businesses, are proud to announce a long-term partnership with the Intercontinental Exchange, Inc. (ICE) (NYSE:ICE), a leading global provider of data, technology, and market infrastructure.

Following the significant partnership announcement, Chris Jenkins, CEO of ZISHI said, "As CEO I am delighted that ZISHI has entered into this partnership with one of the powerhouses of the finance industry. Working with ICE to provide world-class education solutions is a proud moment for me, the team and our business as we continue to work with blue chip brands supporting them to build resilience through knowledge."

Chris Rhodes, President at ICE Futures Europe, said "ICE has been focused on financial education programmes for over a decade, fostered around our belief that creating a more informed financial system by educating business leaders, investors and entrepreneurs about derivatives leads to stronger and more sustainable financial markets for future generations. We are excited to begin this new programme with ZISHI which will cover many of the topics which are core to ICE, and which can help companies grow the next generation of market participants."

ZISHI will be delivering a wide variety of specialist financial markets programmes for ICE including topics covering Commodity Derivatives, Commodity Options, Charting & Technical Analysis and Options Volatility Trading Masterclasses.
